

Energize Your Career with a PES Affiliate Membership

Affiliate Members are members of PES that are not IEEE members. You do not need an engineering degree or technical background to become an Affiliate Member of PES. Affiliate Members only pay PES Affiliate Membership dues of US $104.50/year*, and receive full PES benefits; however, because Affiliate Members are not IEEE members, they are not eligible for IEEE benefits.

Affiliate Member Benefits:

- » Free subscription to PES's award-winning Power & Energy magazine
- » Free membership in your local PES chapter
- » Discounts at dozens of PES sponsored or co-sponsored conferences and meetings in your area and around the world
- » Discounts to technical tutorials and Plain Talk courses
- » Discounted subscription rate to five PES and three Sister Society peer-reviewed technical journals

Is Affiliate Membership right for me?

- » Are you involved or interested in the power and energy field?
- » Are you in business development and want to increase your network and better understand your clients?
- » Are you a policy maker, regulator or attorney that wants to learn about the power industry?
- » Are you an executive that wants to stay updated on the latest news and trends?

If you answered "Yes" to any of these, then PES Affiliate membership is right for you.
